

The United Nations and Palestine: 1947-1951

(Latest 2017 jury feedback incorporated into the exhibit)

Exhibit Scope

This exhibit documents efforts between 1947 and 1951 of the fledgling United Nations organization to settle the land dispute between the Arab and Jewish populations in the Palestine Mandate.

Historical Background

The United Nations replaced the League of Nations in 1946 and inherited the League's resources and responsibilities, including the oversight of international mandates. In April 1947, Great Britain announced it would no longer administer the Palestine mandate as of May 1948. They proposed a 'special session' of the U.N. Security Council to address administration and security under U.N. auspices once British forces departed.

Exhibit Development

Exhibit development progresses chronologically from the call for a special session of the General Assembly and the resulting U.N. Special Committee on Palestine (UNSCOP) to the Palestine and Truce Commissions followed by the Palestine Mediator and transfer of responsibilities from the Palestine Mediator to the U.N. Truce Supervision Organization (UNTSO) and the U.N. Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees (UNRWAPR). Events are outlined in the exhibit plan below chronologically (date range top right of exhibit pages - some dates ranges overlap) and presented using related material to illustrate each subject.

Condition and Rarity

U.N. official service mail from Palestine during this period utilized special stationery with preprinted corner-card text (or in some cases, manuscript notations). Due to each committee / organization's brief existence, official service mail from each entity is extremely scarce. Service mail is known from the United Nations Special Committee on Palestine, Truce Commission, Palestine Mediator, Relief for Palestine Refugees and Conciliation Commission - all rarely obtainable. This exhibit includes each of these entities.

Covers are selected for best condition, bearing in mind service mail is seldom pristine. Folds, creases, nicks, small tears or missing corners are indications of actual transit through the mail systems of the time and place.

Challenge for this area is high as many items are either scarce or unique. Key items are matted on dark blue and include the discovery cover of the American Friends Service Committee (Quaker) efforts in Palestine.

Rarity is determined from published sources and personal correspondence.

- Gaines Catalog / monographs of international U.N. philatelic societies
- Philatelic exhibits (international) / web sites / personal correspondence
- This is the most comprehensive exhibit of service mail for the area to date

Political Viewpoint

This exhibit attempts to remain non-partisan on a controversial subject.
